Let's fly to Mars:
It all comes down to individuals
Copenhagen, Denmark 13-16 May 2012

At this congress, we will focus on the individual research manager and administrator in his or her many capacities. Together, we will explore the different aspects of our profession: our interaction with researchers, funders and other administrators; how we facilitate cooperation and interdisciplinarity; how we are gate keepers; how we work in teams and many other aspects. The congress is relevant to all research managers and administrators, who want to develop their skills.
